DAVIDSON'S BURYING GROUND

4.

Now commonly known as PINE CREEK CEMETERY, but is not on Pine Creek. Was in use from 1790 to late 1880s, on land given for burial purposes by Dr James Davidson, Revolutionary Surgeon, from part of his farm. It is located in Porter Twp, Lycoming Co., Pa, about 1 mile west of Jersey Shore, & just east of the old Tiadaghton Elm where the Pine Creek Declaration of Independence was signed, on July 4, 1776. Graves of 14 Revolutionary veterans have been marked by Fort Antes Chapter, D A R. There are others of proper age whose Rev. service has never been proven; also an untold number of Real Daughters.

Likely once a family plot, in Piatt Twp, Larryville, Pa.

"A white stone atop a little hill, placed by Fort Antes Chapter DAR, close by Seely's Run, marks the spot of this grave." There are no dates given. Other graves are in the plot, none marked. Too little is known of this Revolutionary soldier except that he died prior to June 5, 1792 when Testamentary Letters were issued to Elizabeth Seely, likely the widow.

Captain Seely was taxed at this spot, then Lycoming Twp, in 1786-7, when he already had a saw-mill. Historians have always said this mill was a couple miles up Larry's Creek from its mouth, which brings us directly to this spot. The "little hill" where the graves are, is directly behind the old mill site, which mill continued under various managers for many generations. The little village which grew up around it was named "Millville", later changed to Larryville.

Whether Seely lived there earlier is not known. Mrs Jas. Krom, former chapter regent, stated that her research showed he had served in Cumberland Co., Pa, under Dan Irvine. He was also one of founders of the Order of the Cincinnati.

Michael & Samuel Seely who entered the Continental Army "from beyond the purchase line" (Pa Arch Ser II, Vol 3, p 417) may have been kin & would indicate that Seely was located here before the war. Samuel later m. Phoebe Baird (dau of Wm) & is so named in her father's will.

In 1790 Census Seely is listed with 3 adult males in family, one male under 16, & 3 females. One of the females would be Elizabeth. In 1797 Elizabeth Hunt (remarried?) petitioned to settle Seely's estate. Children named were Isaac, Robert, Eliza & Maria. O.C. Book A, pg 2

* See: History Lycoming Co" 1892, McGinness, pg 1063

One of oldest burial plots in West Branch Valley. Oldest date is 1777, but probably many unknown graves. This record was compiled by the late C Lee Berry, active in historical research in Lycoming County, Pa., & made about 1936 from the scrapbook record of C C MacMinn, who copied the names from the actual markers in 1890.

Through a WPA Project in 1936 the graveyard was leveled & seeded, all markers removed but actual burials remaining as they were. The church & burial plot are located 825 Arch St. Williamsport, Pa.

Mrs Edna S Liddle, for D A R. - - -

EXCEPT the name of ELIZABETH SIMCOX, which was copied earlier by Glen McCloskey, of McElhattan.

Some of the stones are therefore likely missing, since floods have greatly destroyed the site & the site is covered with dirt & debris. Markers on side, & partly covered, perhaps some not located.

Glen McCloskey's date for Nancy Stech was 6.18.1839.

Old THRONE and UNION Cemeteries

Wayne Twp, Clinton Co, Pa

Located west of present McElhattan, & across the Pa & Erie R.R. tracks from the present Evangelical Church and the Linwood Cemetery.

In Look Haven, Pa, Clinton County court files, Deed Book N page 282, is the deed record for the old Union Church & Meeting House (now Evangelical) which was begun in September, 1857 & recorded Dec 9, 1863.

In Book 54, pg 725, is a record of the Incorporation of the Union Cemetery on April 29, 1874, with the following persons as the Board of Directors:

Norman Throne
James W Miller
James R Throne
Isaac Eyer
John Q Dice

The ground was first donated by Henry Yeider, & the central stone bears this inscription:

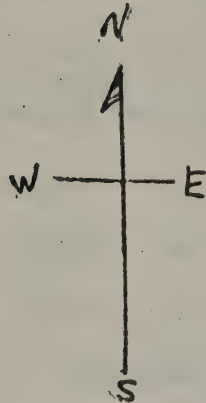

"In memory of Henry Yeider, his wife & sister.
By the liberality of said Henry Yeider, deceased, this burial ground was donated to the citizens of this place".

(There are several stones on the plot, but none with any inscriptions of any kind).

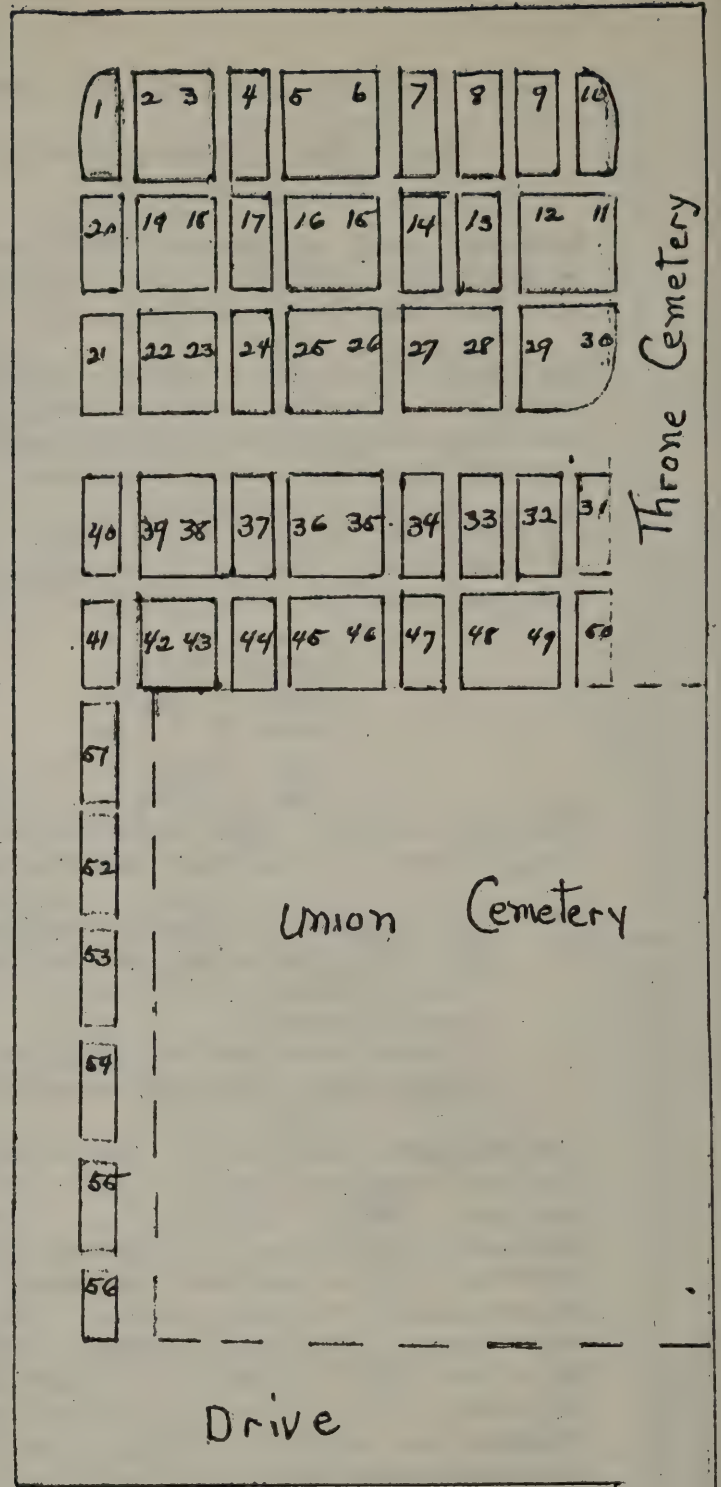

In Michael Throne's time (1854-1887) he extended the Yeider Cemetery to 118 perches & the name was changed to the "UNION CEMETERY". Several religious sects were in the area, & although Michael attended his own church, he recognized the need for a church that could be available to any group. Consequently the Union Church was formed, Michael Throne donating the land, & (in 1941) this was still used as a community church. (J.B. Linn's "History of Centre & Clinton Counties", pg 665, says this church was built in 1853 & was the only church in Wayne Township for many years.

(Some have conjectured that this burial plot may have had its earliest beginning before the Revolution - that is if - and the location seems correct - it is that started at the death of Richard McCafferty, an early settler who lived a "mile east of McElhattan Run" & died & was buried there in 1770. His was the first grave for a white man in the area & contained - at the time of the research - about 50 graves.)

In 1893, Catharine & James Ross Throne turned their farm over to their five children & also set aside the "THRONE RESERVE" for a cemetery, it being a piece of land lying south of Union Cemetery, & extending between parallel lines of said cemetery & the Phila & Erie Railroad.

Issue of June 9, 1881: "DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN. Mr MICHAEL STOUT, d. very suddenly at his residence near the mouth of Drury's Run Friday morning. Though his health had been declining for some months past, on morning of his death he arose early, ate a hearty meal & visited a near neighbor. Between 8 & 9 oc. he returned home feeling very sick & died within 20 minutes after reaching home.

The deceased was born in Noltan Twp, N.J. 12-15-1804 & would have been 77yrs had he lived to next birthday. At age of 9 came with his parents to Pine Creek where they lived 7 yrs, thence up river & settled short distance below this place, thence to Drury's Run where he spent 47yrs of his life . . . always engaged in lumbering. . A man of unusual energy & sterling character. . large funeral on Sunday . . Services by Rev J D Cook, in Pres. Church. Friends came from great distance. . Dec'd leaves four sons, five daus. . all of whom reside in various parts of the union. . . "
